hello...

Bethlehem City Begins Thursday Night!

On Wednesday night we will have a ribbon cutting at 6pm and dress rehearsal at 6:30. All cast and teams are asked to be at dinner in Building 10 beginning at 4pm. We will share some important information at 5pm then get in costume for the picture and dress rehearsal. We need about 15-20 cars that will come and drive through and give us feedback of anything that needs to be adjusted before opening on Thursday.

Estate Planning Workshop – Friday, February 4, 7-9pm

I mentioned in our Generous Life series that we would be offering some tools for families in growing in their life of stewardship, and one of those tools was an estate planning workshop to provide you with information on planning wills, trusts, and other vital documents. Estate Attorney John Dantche has graciously agreed to come and lead a workshop for families of all ages. We will have childcare for the conference because I believe it is so crucial for young families to have this information and get their estate planning done. I cannot tell you all of the nightmares I have heard from families who lost a husband or wife and did not have a will in place. The workshop is free, but this service is very valuable if you had to pay an attorney for this advice. If you would like to attend, please call Crystal in my office to let us know you are coming and if you need childcare.

Zeke Abella Preaching in Both Services Today

I am so thankful to have Zeke on board as our Minister to Students. He is going to be sharing God's Word this morning in both services, and I know the Lord will speak to you through him.
